JURY UNABLE TO FIX BLAME AT INQUEST

MRS. COULOM, ON STAND, DENIES ANY KNOWLEDGE OF "OPERATION"

WAS IN "BUSINESS"

Told Investigator Cantlin That She Had Quit Two Years Ago; Names Others

A coroner's jury last evening returned a verdict stating that Mrs.
Garrie Mullinix, 245 Warren avenue, may have met her death as the result of an illegal operation and that said operation was not necessary to preserve the life of the deceased. The jury also added that the person who may have performed such an operation is unknown.

Mrs. Ottie Coulom, 951 North Harrison avenue, who was held in the county jail yesterday as a material witness for the inquest, was released after the jury returned its verdict.

Mrs. Coulom denied any knowledge of Mrs. Mullinix' true condition, stating that she believed her death due to natural causes and worry over affairs in the Royal Neighbors' lodge of which she had been secretary, resigning two weeks prior to her death. Mrs. Coulom said that she had taken over the lodge duties of Mrs. Mullinix and said that this was one of the reasons for her daily visits to the Mu-llinix home. Testimony of other witnesses corroborated her statements.

Accuses Others

However, Special Investigator William L. Cantlin was placed on the stand and said that he had talked for several hours with Mrs. Coulom at the county jail. He said Mrs.
Coulom told him that the deceased had lost two children by premature birth prior to the one which caused her fatal illness. He also said that Mrs. Coulom admitted that she had performed an abortion for the deceased on a previous occasion but maintained that she had "gotten out of the business" two years ago. She also told the investigator that there was another woman in Kankakee performing such operations and another in Joliet who received Kankakee "clients." She also admitted that she accompanied Mrs. Mullinix to Chicago on Sept. 2nd, but that she did not spend the day with her and knew nothing of where the deceased went or how she spent her time until she called for her in the evening.

Other witnesses were: Dr. J. A.
Guertin, who was called in to attend Mrs. Mullinix the last week of her illness and who stated that he did not know whether her condition was caused by natural causes or an illegal operation; Bert Mu-llinix, husband of the dead woman; Mrs. Pearl Robertson, 381 North Greenwood avenue, employed in the Mullinix lunch room for high school students, who was with the deceased when she died Thursday morning.

Coroner O. J. Cartier was assisted at the inquest by State Attorney T. R. Johnston.

Home Brewer Is Safe For Time Being

Washington, Sept. 27.—(AP)—The citizen who manufacturers wine or beer in his home for home consumption, with no sales involved, was held today by prohibition Director Amos W. W. Woodcock, to be beyond the reach of federal enforcement agencies.

As a matter of law, Woodcock explained today in his first pronoun-cement on this point, the home manufacturer is liable to punishment if the liquor he produces is "intoxicating in fact." This, he said, is a point for the jury to decide.

Practically speaking, however, he continued, evidence to bring the home manufacturer to trial cannot be obtained unless commercial features are involved upon which a search warrant can be issued.

HEARING FOR KNIFE FIGHT NEXT MONDAY

Preliminary hearing for Thomas Clark, colored, of 787 North Hobbie avenue, charged with assault with intent to kill, will be held at 9:00 o'clock Monday morning in police court before Judge Bert L. Fitz-Gerald.

Clark was arrested at 787 North Hobbie avenue last evening by John Stack, police chief, and Ed Imming, city detective, following the stabbing of Willie Smith, young colored man of Manteno. The stabbing, it is charged, occurred yesterday in an alleyside gambling house in the rear of the Blue Bird Inn, a colored resort on North Evergreen avenue.

Smith was taken to St. Mary's hospital with a deep cut over one eye.
The wound, it is charged, was inflicted with a knife by Clark.

Smith, wife of the injured man, told police that her husband had been participating in a game of "skin" when he lost all his money and left the game. Without warning, she said, Clark attacked him with the knife.

After his arrest, Clark told the officers that he thought Smith was drawing a gun and that he stabbed Smith in self defense. Clark was released on bond last evening by Judge Bert L. Fitzgerald, the bonds of $500 being furnished by Frank Smith, brother-in-law of Clark.

WRECKAGE OF PLANE FOUND; BODIES MISSING

Conneaut, Ohio, Sept. 27.—(AP)— The wreckage of the plane in which pilot Willard Parker and his passenger, William J. McNulty, Columbus, Ohio, Salt Manufacturer, disappeared early Wednesday, was found scattered along the Lake Erie shoreline, three miles west of here, early today. No bodies were found.
The plane had fallen in the lake and the wreckage washed ashore.

The wreckage was identified by manufacturers' numbers. It was discovered by W. D. Dimick, of Conneaut, after airplane pilots and others had searched for two days.

There was no indication in the wreckage of what caused the accident. The engine was missing from the wreckage.

Search was started immediately for the bodies. Mayor Roy A. Pease of Conneaut took charge and ordered all available police to the scene.

TWO BOATS GO DOWN IN LAKE MICH.

AT LEAST FIVE LIVES LOST WHEN WIND WHIPS WA-TERS INTO A FURY

THIRD UNREPORTED

Vessel With Cargo Of Grapes Had Not Been Heard From Early Today

BULLETIN
Chicago, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Capt.
Charles H. Mohr, of the freighter William Nelson, which rescued the crew of the "Our Son" when the Two-Master sank off Ludington, Mich., radioed today that he expected to make South Chicago harbor at 6 p. m. tonight.

Muskegon, Mich., Sept. 27.—(AP)— The waters of Lake Michigan, whipped into fury by a 40 mile gale yesterday, took the lives of at least five persons, swallowed up two boats and left the fate of a third undetermined this morning.

The five dead were members of the crew of the Barge Salvor, caught in the gale yesterday afternoon when less than two miles from safety in the harbor here.

Nine others of the 14 who were aboard the barge reached shore alive. Two of them were brought in this morning after having spent 16 hours lashed to the derrick on the barge. They were taken to Grand Haven by members of the Coast Guard crew from that point, who shot a line aboard the barge this morning to rescue them. A third man lashed to the derrick was dead, and because of the heavy seas still running, efforts to remove his body were abandoned.

The other vessel to go down before the gale was the schooner "Our Son," last of her type on the lakes.
She foundered off Ludington, Mich., her crew of seven being removed by the freighter William Nelson.

A third boat, the steel hulled motor carrier North Shore, which left St. Joseph, Mich., with a cargo of grapes yesterday morning en route to Milwaukee, had not been reported today. She carried five men and a woman.

Fears for the safety of eight members of the Coast Guard crew from Ludington, who set out at 4 p. m. yesterday to go to the aid of the schooner, were dispelled this morning when word was received here that they had reached Sheboygan, Wis., making the crossing under their own power.

Two bodies, those of Lorne Olmstead, nine years old, and Elmer Lytle, of Detroit, Mich., already have come ashore. The body left on the barge was that of Clinton Lane, of Muskegon. The two missing are Clarence Barnett and Tony Winsekowski, of Muskegon.

The survivors are: Mrs. Ida Olmstead, mother of Lorne, employed as a cook; her sister, Alice LaPlaut, cook; Onney LaPlaut, all of Sault Ste. Marie; Edward Winsorowski, of Detroit; Floyd O'Connor, George Secor, Clement Shurage, and Lyman Nedeau all of Muskegon, and Harry Smith, of Newark, N. J.

The American State Bank was closed after the disappearance of its president and has been under examination by state inspectors who reported finding slight irregularities in its accounts. It is understood, however, no serious shortage exists and the books of the Lake county treasury were declared to be in satisfactory condition.

The banker's son, John Groves, issued a statement today telling of his father's return.

He said Mr. Groves awoke in a Peoria hotel yesterday afternoon, and immediately called his brother Harry at Springfield. Harry Groves went to Peoria and brought the banker to his East Chicago home last night, arriving sometime after midnight.

In the interval from last Saturday until his awakening at Peoria, Mr.
Groves said he remembered nothing.
The son believed his father had not been in Chicago, but somehow had made his way or had been taken from the Indiana lake resort to Peoria. He had not been robbed, and had money on his person when he awoke yesterday. His automobile, a coupe bearing Indiana license 674, is missing.

Mr. Groves vanished Friday, Sept.
19 while en route to a conference with the board of directors of his bank at which a merger with another East Chicago bank was expected to be ratified. Rather than face the danger of withdrawals because the president's disappearance became known, the directors closed the institution and called on the state bank examiners to go over the books.

Thomas D. Barr, chief examiner who is now at Indianapolis, reported discovery of certain irregularities, but withheld publication of the details.

Bobby Jones Makes Grand Slam Of Titles And Wins Amateur Championship

Merion Cricket Club, Ardmore, Pa., Sept. 27.—(AP)—Bobby Jones swamped Gene Homans, 8 and 7 today in the finals of the U. S. Amateur championship thereby completing his unparalleled "grand slam" in golf for 1930.

A widely cheering and almost uncontrollable gallery of upwards of 10,000 spectators saw Jones add the classic Amateur Crown to his previous triumphs this year in the British open, the British Amateur and American open.

It was his fifth United States Amateur and thirteenth National championship triumph. These are also records.

The fourth triumph by Jones was the easiest of any of the previous three he scored this year to complete his record shattering sweep of all the golfing honors in sight.

He won the medal for the lowest qualifying score, 142, which tied the record, and then swept through five successive matches. He was seldom in danger of being down to any opponent, much less defeated.

It was just a grand parade for the Georgian from the outset, especially after the wholesale downfall of favorites who had been figured to give him a battle.

After a blazing spell of weather most of the week, it turned sharply chill with a strong northeast wind blowing as Jones began the final round with Homans.

A gallery of 2,500 fans turned out for the start of the match, bundled in fur trimmed coats and sweaters.
Jones hit some practice shots with the wood before going to the first tee for the start at 9 a. m. He wore a heavy sweater and so did Homans, making his debut as a finalist in any National championship.

Jones lost only three of the 29 holes played with Homans, one as a result of being stymied and the others as a result of birdies by the New Jersey youth on the 17th and 27th holes. The quadruple champion was 7 up after 18 holes and Eight up and nine to go. Jones missed a chance to end the match on the 28th by taking two strokes to get out of a trap. The hole was nailed in sixes.

The huge gallery, biggest of the tournament and various estimated at from 10,000 to 18,000 in numbers, broke bounds completely going to the 29th and last hole. Down through the fairway, the rough, the woods and over the creek they galloped.

Finished artists in wall decorating have made their appearance through another of the local stores and their work forms a most vivid background for the display of the furnishings.

Interior decorating has been made amazingly simple and easy to understand by the average home in still another unique and unusual display.

Kankakee is not wanting in artistry and talent in home decorating as has been generally believed.
The newly organized local home furnishings industry has found that it simply lacked leadership, and this leadership is now being supplied by the local stores.

Plan to visit them tonight and every night next week. No one is urged to buy, but merely to look and see the many new ideas in better and more artistic home furnishings, and perhaps find something that has been lacking and is just the thing to fill a long felt want.

The couple were reunited, but Mrs. Ehrich soon disregarded his promises and, about a year ago, he badly beat his wife. She claims that in August of this year he struck and slapped her without cause.

Asks Injunction
Mrs. Ehrich claims that Ehrich earns a large income from his taxi business and that she managed the office and answered telephone calls.
Ehrich promised to pay her for this work, but has not done so according to the wife who also claims that she purchased with her own money funiture for their summer home. She asks the court to grant an injunction restraining him from selling the furniture and also to prevent him from carrying out threats against her life. She further requests the return of her maiden name, Laura M. Scanlon.

A $10,000 damage suit for injuries sustained in an automobile accident was filed by Margaret M.
Maynard against Catherine and

Appeal Case
An appeal from the court of Judge Bert L. Fitzgerald involving a matter of about $160 was filed by Dana Mayhew against Don Hendrickson. Fred A. Preisel filed a mechanic's lien against Charles and Alex Gellino for a bill of $324 for repair work on a building. Suit to foreclose on a note for $4,700 dated March 23, 1930, was filed by the First Trust and Savings bank against Mary Gutfendoff through Attorney John A. Mayhew.

GRAIN PRICES
TAKE A TUMBLE

Chicago, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Grain prices slithered down the hill today in places that only the veteran trader remembered.

Even the firm stand of the board of trade in promising exclusion of foreign governments from selling grain futures here provoked no renewal of confidence among buyers and the weight of further cash wheat offerings from soviet Russia inspired new selling on world markets.

Wheat sloughed off 1 7-8 to 2 3-4 cents from yesterday's closing value and finished at the bottom with records only five cents above the low point of 69 1-8 cents marked down in September, 1906.

September wheat ended at 74 1-2 to 3-4, December at 77 7-8 to 78 1-4, March 81 7-8 to 82 1-8 and May 84 5-8 to 7-8. Corn sagged similarly, and oats and rye broke the season's records.

Local People Display Talent In

Developments which are affecting Locally this event is uncovering talent among the general public produced right here in our own city

Chicago, Sept. 27.—(AP)—A two-cent cut in the service station and tank have already been made. In Chi-on his ravishing daughter, whom he knew by sight. "I'll wager she does a lot of damage. Thompson had no doubt of it. I saw her just the other day having luncheon at the Brevoort with some young fellow, and you give me the name of the cook whether he was eating food or hay?"

Mr. Leonard had wondered aloud whether he would ever see the young Thompson had seen, and Thompson, mistaking this casual paternal interest, had gone to some pains to describe the young fellow in detail.

"His description," declared Mrs. Leonard, "bounced to your father, and sounded to me like a man who looked it exactly like Jerry Davis. He said he was tall and thin and dark, and that he kept his eyes half shut all the time, and that he was as white as chalk. We couldn't think of any other man you know that fitted that description."

"Mother," broke in Gay, "do you honestly think you know every man I know?"

"Well—most of them—"

"You don't. You don't know half of them. Do you realize how many I meet, just meet and perhaps dance with a couple of times, wherever I go? For instance, the boy who was luncheoning with at the Brevoort that day was a boy I met at a football game last fall. You've never seen him—I've only seen him twice myself—but he fits that description just as well as Jerry Davis, if not better. In fact, he looks something like Jerry, although it didn't occur to me until now."

"I haven't seen Jerry," she added, "since you told me not to. Honestly Mrs. Leonard started toward the writing room.

"Mr. Pomeroy? Certainly, sir."

Mrs. Leonard took two more steps; then she halted so abruptly that she gave an effect of collision with some large invisible object—"Mr. Pomeroy, Wilkins? Mr. Alan Pomeroy?"

Wilkins nodded, and his lips formed a noiseless, yet distinct sound he said. "Thank you, sir."

Mrs. Leonard shut the book with a slap, an turning wildly to the telephone again, called up Mr. Leonard.

"I thought you said it was 'nice hat'."

"No hat is a really nice hat that hides your hair."

"It seems to me," Gay remarked, removing the hat before a Venetian mirror, "that my hat is uncommon."

Chicago Heights

Cliff's Guardian Series
Sticking right in there and pitching to the very last, the Bucket Brigadiers dogmatically coaxed the old ball game out of the hands of the Blue coated wielders of the billy club before a vast cheering multitude of enthusiasts Sunday afternoon in the final game of a three heights Athletic club's ball park on Chicago Road as a benefit for the Swedish navy, as well as the pension fund for the coppers and the bucketeers.

A vast throng braved the elements and the high seas as well as pick-pockets to witness the furious struggle for supremacy between the guardians as the two teams heeded the primitive call of the mighty urge to combat. All the City Fathers attended in masses. Mayor Daniel Bergin and wife were present. Sergeant William H. Craig and wife were there. Police Magistrate A. I. Zeller and wife were there, and many other notables and wives were there.

The series was practically culminated when the intemperate Willie Leuder rapped out a homer that went high wide and pretty for a touchdown scoring about three others. This was too much for the boys in blue, so Sergeant Bricks tossed up the sponge, and Officer Bloom sallied forth to the rescue. Nobody knows who came up from the gutter in hopes of fanning the batter. He at least fanned the breezes—due credit must always be given.

After the frenem became fagged out chasing around the bases thirty-five times they became too tired to even swing the bat so Officer Bloom threw a bunch of easy ones over the plate, and the weary firefights didn't have energy enough left to even stick the bat in front of the ball. Some of them well might fall to the ground exhausted.

As this scene closed, the coppers, who had by this time gotten their second wind came to bat for the latter half of the ninth inning with hope eternal beaming from their heavy laden eyelids. The first two became over excited, however, and fanned furiously for two out. Then the mighty Parker came to bat. Parker, who had in previous innings also been the hit of the game, did likewise this time when he again got hit in the back by a wild pitch—thus getting on base.

Then in wild tumultuous ecstasy, did the boys in blue stage a wondrous comeback that would have won the game had they but scored enough runs. The point is, however, that they didn't. Then came "Skidchain" Wickham who slid for first, second, third, and home respectively, and respectfully. His feature skid was on first, where it said that he would have saved the day had he gotten there first instead of the ball. Just as the coppers had sneaked up to within eleven points of tying the frenem, and thus forcing the game to go another inning, however, Costabile the Great fanned. It was the crucial moment, when the lad came to the plate, and the crowd was hushed in expectancy—but one of his pals has described the story more fully. Let him tell it—as follows:

"As an aftermath of the Great Base Ball Game, the final test for supremacy between the Police and Firemen of Chicago Heights, and the last game of a series held during the season—the following poetical effusion was conceived and respectfully dedicated to Captain John Costabile, of Chicago Heights Police Department, the occasion being, a critical moment when the tide of battle hung in balance, and the Captain as 'pinch hitter' was pressed in service to save the day.

"In his younger days 'Johnnie' was a wonderful ball player, and due to this fact, he was called on in the emergency, but time and tide wait for no one, and the passing years and too much spaghetti will slow down the best, but let us sing his praise for the noble efforts put forth, and justly acknowledge that he did his d—t! Now go on with the story.

"The crowd held back in silence as he stepped up to the plate. All eyes were focused on him from the bleachers to the gate. With careless grace he waved upon the Ladies in the stand. Then turned and faced the Pitcher, with the bat poised in his hand. A haughty smile crept slowly over his determined face. The crowd was all expectant, the strain all too intense. A mighty wallop sure will send the ball way over the fence. The pitcher tripped a fancy step and let the bullet fly. Johnnie made an awful swipe and the crowd let out a cry. The captain all bewildered, not knowing what he done. The Catcher tossed the ball back, and the umpire cried STRIKE ONE.

Again the captain faced the north, once more he took his stand. Ten thousand eyes were on him. Babe Ruth ne'er looked more grand. With mighty force he swung the bat, the tense excitement grew. 'Are we lost!' the Captain shouted, 'has victory passed us by?' The shades of my ancestors bid me do it now or die!

He pulled his cap down over his eyes, he braced his legs apart. His bulging muscles poised the bat, for the flying dart. Oh! Hungry Hill! your pride and joy has swung the final bout. The Policemen lost the Ball Game when their captain bled STRUCK OUT."
